Calling the PM's Bluff

isfied with the outcome of the Coyne affair—everybody but the government which has suffered a for the summer in some disarray.

It is said that the Senate obstructed the policy of the nation by rejecting a House of Commons bill dismissing Mr. Coyne. It has done no such thing. Since Mr. Coyne has resigned without delay there is no need for the dismissal bill and it has lapsed. All the Senate did was to give an accused man the full hearing refused by the Government in the Commons. Mr. Fleming, Mr. Coyne's accuser could have appeared before the Senate committee to cross-question the accused and present the government's case, but Mr. Fleming refused to appear. From the start the Government was afraid to confront Mr. Coyne.

On the evidence before it the committee and then the whole Sen ate could reach no other verdict than the innocence of Mr. Coyne on the charge of frustrating the Government's policies. No evidence of resistance to those policies was produced. All Mr. Coyne asked, in refusing to resign under fire, was a vindication of his honor. This he has received and now, undoubtedly, is glad to leave the government's service, his reputation untarnished.

Thus in two specific cases Mr. Diefenbaker has collided with the Senate. Had the Senate rejected the Government's policy in the tariff bill, or had it insisted that Mr. Coyne remain in his office when the Government had lost confidence in him then certainly Mr. Diefenbaker would have a reasonable cause for complaint. He could argue, under those conditions that a non-elected body had overruled the general will of an elected body.

This has not happened. In the case of the tariff bill the Senate did not touch the Government's policy of restricting imports by redefining goods "of a class or kind made in

The Senate's amendment was essential to the protection of the citizen and not many Canadians will question its wisdom. In the case of the Coyne bill the Senate refused assent but only when it knew that Mr. Coyne was resigning and making the bill superfluous. It is also due to the fact that both habitat (with abundance of cover) and climate (with mild winters) are eminently suitable for this animal. In any case cougars are numerous on Vanc ver Island and will likely remain so de-spite predator hunters and sportsmen who occasionally hunt them down,

The cougar has received a consider able amount of unfortunate publicity in recent years — unfortunate because it tends to give an erroneous impression of this animal. Many such stories concern a cougar attacking a human and are "played up" to appear as if it were an unprovoked attack. In some cases investigation reveals that a dog was actually the original object of attention and that a human interfered or accidentally got in the way.

The fatal attack on a child on the West Coast a few years ago was apparently an example of this. Curiously, most attacks on man are made by young male cougars; it is suggested these are inexperienced animals and probably abnormal in behaviour, Ordinarily, cou-

Even in target areas, blast shelters that will stand up except at "ground zero" are not impossible to improvise.

When a program is completed, the President is thinking about writing a personal letter to all U.S. citizens, telling each of them what to do and how to do it in a brief, simple way. In short, he means business about Civil Defence, strange as this may still seem to many people.

SYNOPSIS—It appears that the record breaking warm spell of the last few days has reached its end. Temperatures along the coast and in the northern interior will be in the 70s today compared to the 90s Thursday. In the southern interior hot weather will continue today but relief is expected Saturday.

Along with the cooler temperatures there will be some increase in cloudiness over most parts of the province. However, except for isolated thunderstorms in the interior, no rain is looked for.

Norman Starry In NW Triumph

NEW, WESTMINSTER (CP) - Brilliant goaltending by Les Norman paved the way Thursday night as New Westminster walloped Vancouver 10-2 to increase their Inter-City Lacrosse League lead to three points.

A noisy crowd of 3,300 watched Westminster score nine straight goals during the middle quarters to build up a commanding lead. Norman allowed Vancouver to score the first goal of the game at 2.54 of the first quarter and then blanked the losers until late in the third quarter. GREAT EFFORT

Norman turned in his best splay of the season in stopping 32 shots. Only Vancouver player who could beat him was Bill Barbour, who scored both of his club's goals. Four players led the New Westminster attack with two goals each. They were Harold Fox, Ivan Stewart, Jack Barclay and Doug Wallsmith, The game was also one of the roughest of the season, with referees Bry Groves and Bill Stuart handing out 63 minutes in penalties.

New Westminster picked up 35 minutes, including a 10-minute misconduct to Gogie Stewart and a five minute major to Fox. Vancouver re-ceived 28 minutes and also lost coach Bobby Marsh, who was ejected from the game for making an uncomplimentary remark to Stuart.

EVERYBODY'S PAYING

Even the ushers are buying tickets to get into Memorial Arena for annual minor lacrosse jamboree next Monday. Ticket-taker Harry Dickinson gets pressure talk from Kelly Jones (left) and Allan Mottishaw (right). Youngsters do right well in gutted-stick league, too! Ten-year-old Allan has scored 76 goals and 27 assists in 20 games while his nine-year-old linemate has accounted for 59 goals and 20 assists in 17 games. Both perform in midget division and both will display talentsamong the most promising in Greater Victoria Association—at jamboree. (Photo by Strickland.)

Started in 1927 at Mill Bay and now nestled on the Started in 1927 at Mill Bay and now nestled on the shores of Finnerty Cove, the hospital is designed exclusively for the care and treatment of crippled children. The excellent methods and facilities have made the Solarium famous across the continent and make it unnecessary for patients to be sent out of the province for long-term treatment for disabilities.

The number of youngsters who can be helped toward a happier and more normal life is limited by the number of beds available. Unfortunately, there are always more youngsters hopefully waiting to be admitted to the Solarium.

which is currently equipped to handle 64 patients.

But there's a big day coming up for hospital officials.

Next month they expect to open two new wards, which will boost the Solarium population to 80 little citizens.

Opening of the new wards will also be a red-letter day for members of the Solarium Salmon Derby committee, who are hoping this summer to raise enough moreous to are hoping this summer to raise enough money to pay a. large part of the cost of furnishing the wards.

Over $78,000 Raised By Derby

The derby has paid a big part in the development of the Solarium. Since the annual one-day fishing competition—co-sponsored by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and The Daily Times—was started, it has raised more than $78,000 for the hospital. This summer, it is hoped that derby proceeds will pay a large part of the cost of furnishing the new wards and boost the total contribution well above the $80,000 mark.

It's easy to lend a helping hand to the Solarium. All that's needed is to purchase a ticket for this year's derby, scheduled at Saanich Inlet on July 23. Each ducat costs only $1 and purchasers in addition to having an opportunity to fish for prizes and a chance to win the $300 consolation prize, know they are speeding the time when more patients can be admitted.

Because most youngsters are usually due for a stay of several months, the Solarium is a hospital that is different. It is like a small city for the patients.

Activities All Part of Treatment

In addition to specialized hospital care, a full program of activity and entertainment is maintained to keep young-sters occupied and in the happy frame of mind that is part of good treatment.

Among the activities are weekly film shows, Sunday school, stamp classes, Guide, Brownie, Scout and Cub meet-ings, concerts by various organizations and by the children

All inmates are expected to maintain a normal standard

All inmates are expected to maintain a normal standard of education and even those in beds and wheelchairs attend classes under the direction of two full-scale teachers. To keep small hands busy at other times, an occupational therapist is employed in a large, well-equipped department. In the fireproof building on the 60-acre site by the sea, patients receive regular dental care and haircuts at normal intervals. To help make bones and muscles stronger are excellent hydrotherapy and physiotherapy facilities. A splint and brace shop is maintained with a full-time splintmaker on staff.

The facilities are there to help more young citizens. All that is needed is more space for beds. This summer the number will grow to 80. Construction is starting on two other wards that should be completed next year and will add another 16 beds.

The need for assistance is as great as ever as each derby ticket purchased means another step in the right direction. You can get yours from members of the VSIAA, at sporting goods stores or from Saanich Inlet boathouses.

There are only 10 more days until derby day.

Talking about red-letter days, Monday was one of those kind for Bill Court. The usual theory is: "sub" means "under," and "marine" means "water"; hence "submarine" means "underwater."

The reason I know this theory is wrong, it is much too simple and too logical for the Navy

Another thing I know about submarines is, they are fine for cruising but not much good for deck tennis. This would tend to keep down the number of men vol-unteering for submarine service, except it is balanced by a mitigating factor:

When the time comes to swab down the decks, the duty hands sprinkle detergent and the commander sounds the klaxon and orders "DIVE DIVE DIVE," for the rinse. The saving in wear and tear on both mops and duty understand, considering where they spend half their time. Submarine men wear a dolphin on their sleeve, where ordinary sailors usually wear their hearts. Submarines are partial to water. This is not necessarily true of submarine men.

On the other hand, submarines are allowed to go into dives, and the men are not.

Submarines are shaped like fish, and are therefore open to a charge of plagiarism the first time some shark bones up on copyright laws. Conventional submarines must surface from time to

Q. Will you please state where the potato plant was first discovered, when the potato was first used for food, and in what part of the world it was found? L.J.P.

A. The potato is first mentioned în Cornica de Peru, a book by Cieza de Leon, published in Spain in 1553. Peruvian Indians are known to have harvested the potato and used it to make a kind of bread. It first became known to the western world through the Spanish conquering expeditions in what is now Peru and Bolivia, and most botanists agree that it is native to that part of South America.

Purple-Red and Juicy? Loganberries, of Course By PENNY SAVER

Yes, this is Loganberry Week, or rather, Loganberry Weekend, and store Penny visited is selling two boxes of these succulent local herries for 35 cents.

these succulent local berries for 35 cents.

Along with the berries, shopper is given some excellent recipes for turning tangy fruit into pies, preserves, deserts jarns and jellies. Instructions are given also for making loganberry ices, pancake syrup, desert sauces and jellied salads—timely for this warm July!

Same store is seemingly filled with crates and crates of lovely cantaloupe, specially priced this weekend at two for 15 cents. Why not freeze some to save for a fall treat? At this price, you can practically afford to play volleyball with them!

DEAR NOT: Many mothers "snoop" out of curiosity rather than mistrust. But reading another's diary and mail is in-cooperation. Date others for the present, but don't be too quick to run up the white flag.

DEAR ABEY: Will you have a heart-to-heart talk. You could both profit.

Bananas this week have gone down again, four pounds being priced at 49 cents. Local cucumbers are a "special" as well at 19 cents for two nice sized "cukes." New potatoes have gone down 16 cents per ten-pound sack, they now sell at 49

Meet counter of this store is featuring many excellent bargains. Standing rib rosst is selling for 55 cents a pound; chuck steaks, 39 cents a pound; and round bone roasts, 33

If any of these items promise to tickle your palate, give Penny a call at EV 2-3131 to find out where she shopped.

BRIDGE LESSON

By OSWALD JACOBY When you intend to lead one of two four-card suits against a no-trump contract it is a pretty good higher second best card The reason for this is that you will need NORTH ♦ 10 6 4 ♥ 9 5 4 less in your partner's hand to get the suit + A Q J + Q J 10 9 going. West's heart opening AQ73 ♥Q73 49862 AA54 was in accordance with second highest heart was the 10: his second highest spade, the nine The percentage lead worked this time. South won East's queen with the ace and eventually lost three hearts, a South West North East 1 N.T. Pass 3 N.T. Pass Pass Pass club and a spade.

A spade lead would have given South two spade tricks and his contract. with this hand, see If you can make it against a club opening and club return by East or a diamond opening and diamond return by East after he takes his ace of clubs. Obviously a heart shift will beat it, but with-

For Bus Cut

Proposed B.C. Electric transportation cuts involving Greater Victoria were endorsed Thursday by city

The city was the last of the four municipalities to agree to the proposals, subject of weeks of study by a special intermunicipal committee on transcortation.

These entail changes for a more efficient transit system in line with existing passenger demands; in many instances frequency of service will be increased; service will still be better than the North American countries.

Chairman Ald. Michael
Griffin, of the city's own committee, told council after members studied proposed re-routing and citizens' complaints:

Diefenbaker Ducks Election Challenge

By TOM GOULD Times Ottawa Correspondent OTTAWA The Diefenbaker government Thursday decided to duck an immediate general election.

Decision was taken at a morning cabinet meeting, according to informants and the government immediately started negotiating with Lib-eral and CCF leaders for the immediate recess of parliament which came later in the day.

It was taken in the face of the Senate's resounding rejection of the government's bill to fire Bank of Canada Gove nor James E. Coyne, the second-humilation the government suffered in two days at the hands of the Senate.

THREATS IGNORED

For weeks, Prime Minister Diefenbaker and other Conser vative speakers have been threatening the Senate with an election on the issue of Senate reform. But the Senate ignored the threats, and first amended the tariff bill, then threw out

Nonetheless, it is possible an election will not be long de layed. One informant said the let the Covne affair die down bring parliament back, then hold an election in late October or early November.

Another said the vote will not be called until next spring.

8-WEEK HOLIDAY FOR PARLIAMENT

OTTAWA (CP)-Parliament went on an eight-week summer holiday today.

The vacation break came at 10.42 EDT Thursday

Prime Minister Diefenbaker proposed the summer adjournment "on this, the 157th day of the longest session up to this moment . . ."

There was gay abandon as MPs broke into song when

House adjourned until Thursday, Sept. 7. Never before in Canada's history has Parliament sat so long or adjourned on such a dramatic note.

the Bank of Canada. session was adjourned on an election note, with CCF MPs, making swan-song speeches as members of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation, challenging the government to go to the people immediately.

The CCF MPs will return to the House in September

Q. Will you please state where the potato plant was first discovered, when the and in what part of the world it was found? L.J.P.

A. The potato is first men-tioned in Cornica de Peru, a book by Gieza de Leon, pub-lished in Spain in 1553. Peruvian Indians are known to have harvested the potato and used if to make a kind of bread. It first became known to western world through the Spanish conquering expedi-tions in what is now Peru and Bolivia, and most botanists agree that it is native to that part of South America.
